The Rev. Joseph Savage, of St. Peter's Church, speaks from the reviewing stand set up in the Antioch Village Hall lawn Sunday as the memorial to the Antioch area's war dead was dedicated.

CLC Emphasis Is Quality-Need

New educational opportunities are coming to Lake County. With the opening of classes next week at the College of Lake County site near Grayslake, area residents will be given a choice of a variety of career-oriented courses.

At moderate cost, studies can be elected that lead to employment in one of the fast growing fields of data processing, computer programming and the chemical electrical - electronic, architectural, or mechanical technologies. Courses leading to positions in public and health service, secretarial work, business management, and real estate will also be available at the standard rate of $7 per credit hour for residents of the College District.

College officials are intent on making the courses available to as many persons as can profitably attend. Many of the courses are, therefore, being scheduled both for the day and evening sessions.

James Seltz, who is assistant dean for career programs, stated, "Although a few courses such as the practical nurse and registered nurse curricula are limited to persons who can attend daily on a full-time basis, most of the career curricula will be offered to persons attending either full time or part time, day or evening. We are interested in preparing the recent high school graduate for a semi-professional career if he chooses not to follow a four-year college curriculum," Seltz said, "but we are equally concerned about helping the working person up-grade to another occupational level, say to a supervisory or management position."

One of the features of the career programs is the specialization possible within a broad field. In the secretarial studies, for instance, the student may elect a course of study leading to general secretarial work, or, if preferred, he may concentrate on gaining a foundation for entry into employment as a legal, medical, or technical secretary. This is possible in the business studies as well. In that area, the student may specialize in accounting, marketing, insurance, or real estate.

Students are given a further choice between enrolling in a two-year associate degree program or a one-year certificate course in the different programs. Courses leading to careers in dental assisting and practical nursing are two of the exceptions to this.

Both programs are two semesters and one summer session in length. The primary emphasis is in preparation for immediate employment rather than transfer to a four year college or university with credit toward a baccalaureate degree.

In developing the career courses, two things are being stressed: One is attention to community needs, the other is quality. Commenting on this, Seltz said, "While the number of occupationally-oriented courses to be offered is considerable for a new college, we are limiting the offerings initially to those of greatest need in the community. These first courses undoubtedly will provide the youth and adults who complete them ample opportunities for service and employment locally. Additional courses will be developed upon recommendation of citizen advisory groups in the future," he commented, "but we intend to offer only those who can be established and maintained at a level of high quality."

A major concern of the College staff is that the graduates will learn the necessary skills and become competent enough to advance on the job. Besides an assembly of qualified faculty and

Teachers To Attend Meeting

High School Guidance Counselors and Chemistry teachers from Antioch schools have been invited to attend the Chemical Industries Council's Eleventh Annual Conference and Luncheon for High School Guidance Counselors and Chemistry Teachers, Saturday, October 18.

The conference and luncheon will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Drake Hotel, Chicago, from 10:00 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. More than 200 teachers from Chicago-area public, private and parochial schools are expected to attend.

According to Dr. James H. Gardner, President of Armour Industrial Chemical Corporation and President of Chemical Industries Council-Midwest, "The Conference program is planned to give teachers and counselors new insight on the chemistry of the future and will cover career areas which hold great potential, both in terms of individual advancement and future contributions to mankind."

The morning conference session will present a panel of chemical experts bringing to the counselors and teachers information of job areas which in some instances will be new to them. Each member of the panel will cover a job area which has great possibilities for the future, including Computer Technology, Biochemistry, Environmental Science, Material Science and Chemical Technology.

The featured speaker for the luncheon session will be Dr. John Melvin Googin, senior staff consultant for the production operations of Union Carbide Corporation's Nuclear Division in Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Dr. Googin, who will speak on "The Chemistry-It's Usually Important," was named recipient of the E. O. Lawrence Memorial Award in 1967. This award honors those who have made outstanding contributions to the field of atomic energy. Dr. Googin has a distinguished record

Antioch's War Memorial, dedicated to the servicemen from the area who have given up their lives in combat to keep America free, was dedicated Sunday.

The monument, which bears the inscription "In honor of all who served their country in time of need" stands on the lawn in front of the Village Hall.

The monument was brought about through the efforts of the Antioch American Legion Post 748 and the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4551.

Participating in the ceremonies Sunday were members of the families of the fallen war heroes, civic, political and military leaders.

More than 150 persons turned out for the 2 p.m. ceremonies. Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Kenneth Smouse, and those participating included Rev. Joseph Savage, of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Michael Ganger, senior vice commander of the Antioch VFW, Mayor Raymond Toll, Commander C. E. Warnecke, 10th District American Legion, Commander Richard Anderson, 5th District VFW, Past Commander Bernard Stadick, Antioch American Legion, and the Rev. Donald Cobb, Antioch Methodist Church.

Capt. Quinn

Principal speaker for the ceremony was Capt. Partick Quinn, Chief Supply Officer for the 9th Naval District stationed at Great Lakes.

Quinn congratulated the residents of Antioch for the donations, time, effort and money toward a permanent Antioch War Memorial and typified the memorial as "a fitting tribute for the community to honor all members of the Armed Forces from Antioch who served and died in past wars as well as those who might be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice in event of a future war."

"I am honored," he said, "to join with you in dedication of this thoughtfulness of a group of Antioch school students, their teachers and local residents."

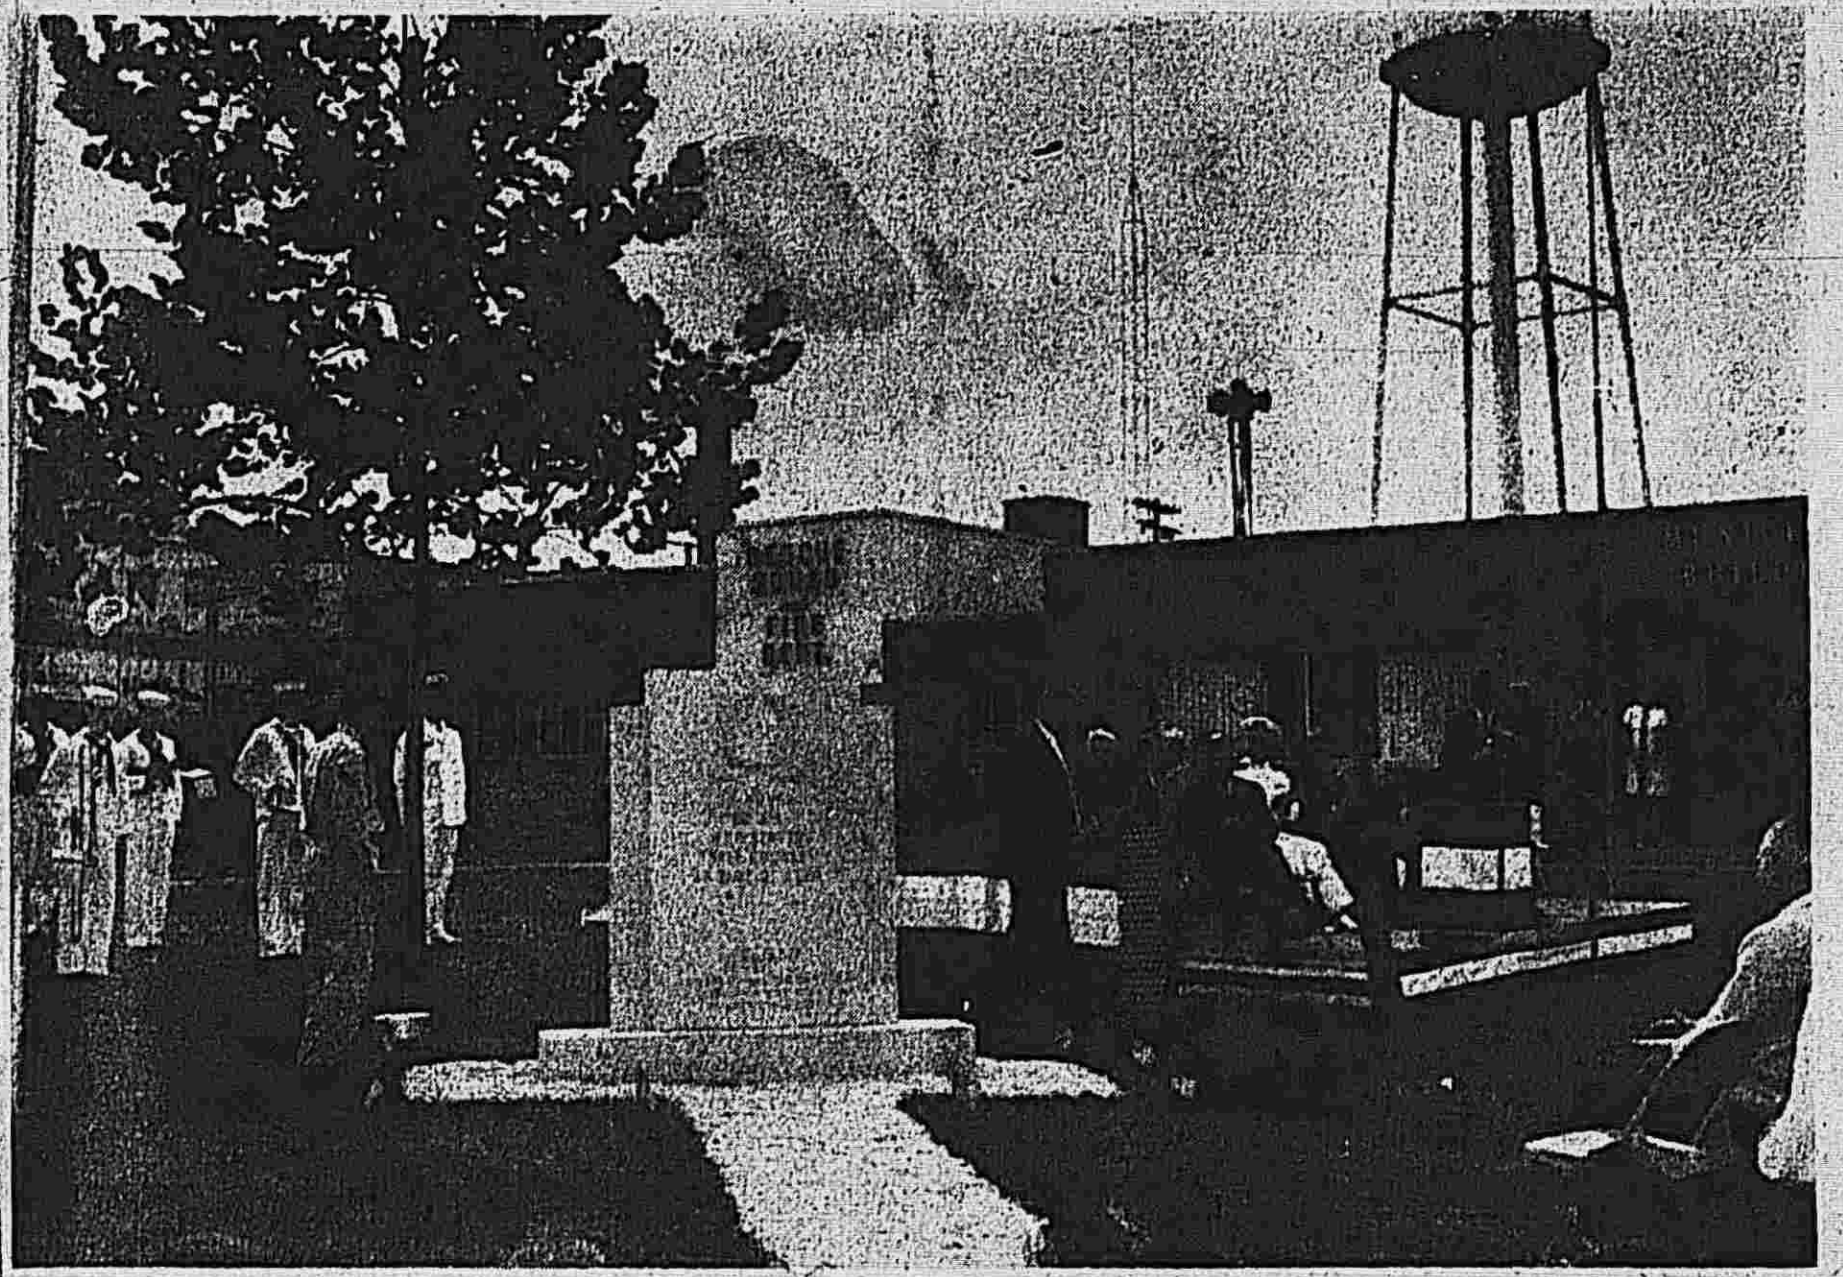

The captain said that those attending the ceremonies "stood in the shadow of our greatest men." "As a nation we have never known military defeat," he said. "We have no experience of being conquered by which we could measure the loss of our independence and cherished freedoms. It is up to us to perpetuate and preserve them. History has shown that no aggressor can be appeased. The wars of this century have taught us that our own

Zoning Hearing Set For Sept. 29

The Antioch Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. Monday, Sept. 29 in the Village Hall on a petition by the State Bank of Antioch and Olive Burke to change from R-5 multiple dwelling to B-2 business property at 971 Spafford St.

The permit sought is to remove the present structure and improve the property with additional parking area.

The Antioch War Memorial is unveiled in ceremonies held Sunday at the Antioch Village Hall. The memorial was underwritten by gifts from residents and businessmen throughout the Antioch area and was promoted by the Antioch American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Housing Reports Near End

Final Reports from all subcommittees of the Lake County Housing Study Committee are expected to be turned in prior to the October meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

The announcement came at a committee session from chairman Richard Kennedy. He said he would like to have the Housing Study Committee's complete document made public during the upcoming fall clinic sponsored by People's Gas Company, scheduled next month.

Members of the study committee were appointed by County Board Chairman Robert W. Depke last February. The group was charged with making a detailed survey of housing needs and firm recommendations on possible changes required in present ordinances covering building and zoning.

Subsequently five subcommittees were formed to conduct detailed investigations into housing needs and goals; laws, codes and ordinances; housing development; utilities; and transportation. These individual study reports

$3.2 Million Budget Is Approved

A $3,270,250 budget for fiscal 1970-71 was approved by commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve District at a meeting Thursday, Sept. 18.

The proposed budget had been presented last month, at which time E. Kenny Harlan, chairman of the land acquisition committee, said the $1 million dollar increase in the appropriation for new lands was a "shopping list" and did not necessarily represent the actual amount which will be spent for that purpose next year.

Commissioners approved action setting new boundaries for the so-called "green belt" west of Waukegan.

Laine Tossed Out

Charles Laine, 17, of 2102 Sprucewood Lane, Lindenhurst, who was suspended from Antioch High School because of his long hair—returned with a court order—was suspended again last Friday as the court ruled against him.

Laine, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sulo M. Laine, had been attending Antioch High on a temporary court order by visiting Judge Clarence E. Partee, who last Thursday dismissed the temporary injunction that saw his readmission.

Peter Collins, attorney for Laine, said he would appeal the ruling in federal court where earlier two youths from Barrington had won their case and were readmitted to Barrington High School.

The youth had charged that his constitutional rights were violated because he was refused admittance to the school on account of his long locks.

The judge, in dismissal of the temporary injunction, ruled that

Honor War Dead

Residents of the Antioch area have proven once again that if the community pulls together, anything can be accomplished.

The recent proof is the memorial dedicated to the men from the Antioch area that have fallen in battle to keep our country strong and vibrant.

They gave the supreme sacrifice so that we could continue a way of life that is envied throughout the world by every civilized country.

When the war memorial project began—by a group of interested students—it came to naught, and then was taken up again recently by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

These were men who had seen the conflict, who had given all but that one precious gift—life—and were grateful.

These were men who knew what it meant to have a comrade fall before their eyes, fighting to maintain our freedom.

They sought funds and against great odds gradually won out and thus the memorial—enhanced by Our Flag—stands today in front of the Village Hall for all to see and wonder at.

Patriotism today seems to be a dirty word. And it is a pity that more of the community did not come out and witness the dedication.

But those who did will carry with them a memory that will never grow dim.

And patriotism, for those 150 or so who did find the time from a busy weekend to witness the ceremony, will burn brighter for it.

Progress Shown

Every now and then the Village Fathers need a pat on the back.

We are often accused of pointing out what we consider shortcomings and forgetting the good things.

The village administration has launched an ambitious sewer program that will only benefit the Antioch residents.

We applaud this decision with all sincerity.

We also feel that further projects should be taken on if and when money becomes available in order for Antioch to grow and continue to be a vibrant area—both residential and industrial.

Growth in Lake County is considered to be westward from Lake Michigan and Antioch can be a vital part of that growth with an administration that is interested in capital improvements.

Thus far this administration has shown itself to be one which is working for community good.

We think, however, that the projects should be extended further to road work and other projects. We are sure it will be.

We hope that the progress shown thus far will be continued.

funds to be appropriated for the operation of this taxing body.

This includes the salaries or per-diem for the township supervisor, road commissioner, town clerk, assessor and auditors.

The new date for annual town meetings, along with several other measures affecting township and county government, was discussed Thursday, Sept. 18, in Dixon, at a meeting of supervisors from Zone 4, which takes in 23 counties in the northern part of the State.

Representing Lake County at the session were supervisors Kenneth Henke, Benton Township; Bruce Frost, Deerfield Township; and Clarence Pontius, Vernon Township.

Henke is second vice chairman of Zone 4, Illinois Assn. of Supervisors and Commissioners. Both Frost and Pontius hold offices in the state association.

Two Antioch Couples Delegates To Seminar

Mr. and Mrs. David Mitchell, 113 Oakwood Drive, Antioch, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dowell, Rt. 3, Box 732, Antioch, will be delegates to a religious seminar of Jehovah's Witnesses. The convention is scheduled Sept. 26-28 at the Warren Township High School, 500 O'Plaine Road, Gurnee, Illinois.

Mitchell and Dowell are two members of the three-man ministerial committee who supervises and represents the members of the Spring Grove Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses in various matters. The third member is Leslie MacDiarmid of Richmond.

During the convention the theme "Right Kind of Ministers" will be emphasized. Assemblies such as the Gurnee gathering are instrumental in providing instructional points to local area congregational committees of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Mitchell, the presiding minister, in discussing the committee and its role at the assembly, said, "Each adult male member of the congregation has an opportunity to become one of the committee if he has the proper spiritual maturity and meets the Bible qualifications described in 1 Timothy 3. Extensive courses of religious training are available to all in the local congregations and each baptized disciple is considered a minister although at different levels of religious maturity."

Within the organizational arrangement of the Spring Grove congregation there are at least seven other persons who have positions of responsibility. In stressing the duties and qualifications of these, Ralph Dowell, director of Bible education, said that the Greek word "diakonos," translated "deacon," literally conveys the thought of getting dusty in the service of others as an attendant or servant, and that within the congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses one who has this responsibility is called a "servant" rather than given the ecclesiastical title of "deacon."

In addition, the Greek word "episkopos," translated "bishop," literally means "one who visits and inspects." Thus, the presiding minister in any congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is called simply an "overseer" or "congregation servant."

Dowell went on to explain that the frequent conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses enable them not only to reappraise their organizational arrangement periodically, but also to take a fresh look at their house-to-house ministry patterned by Jesus and the apostles in the first century.

"We have found that the most important religious instruction is done on a very personal basis right in one's home. Since the turn of the century, Jehovah's Witnesses have seen the need for this "through the dust" approach at the individual's own home as did Jesus and the apostles. Many people in our community know us by name and expect us to come by regularly."

Dowell pointed to the September convocation as "providing a practical 20th century approach to the first century art of preaching and teaching from door-to-door."

The public is invited to the three-day assembly. Highlight will be the talk, Sunday, Sept. 28, 3 p.m., "True Worship Versus the False." The speaker will be Wayne M. Knott, district supervisor.

Antioch Dedicates...

Integrity depends upon our ability to stop aggression.

"Our obligation to them this day and every day is to remember them—not merely to remember that they fought, but why they fought. In addition, our obligation to them is to maintain a society worthy of their sacrifices."

"I have said that our servicemen are dedicated to an ideal—but men will fight for ideals only as long as they value them. The courage of our fighting men is but one part of America's heritage—the patriotism and pride behind that courage are what made America great."

"We must not be lulled into a false sense of security by belief that there is an easy way to safety. The safety of America, and American ideals today and through the future, depends upon the indomitable spirit of millions of Americans in and out of uniform—in every walk of life—willing to stand up and be counted—and willing to take the hard road, if necessary, for the sake of their country."

"This, our State of Illinois, is the Land of Lincoln. At Gettysburg, Lincoln called upon the living to dedicate themselves to tasks yet unfinished. Lincoln's challenge is more difficult today—for the unfinished tasks are global—but we must carry on. "If we keep the faith—if we uphold the traditions for which our fighting men gave their lives, then we shall have met Lincoln's challenge. By believing, living and serving the cause of freedom, we can justify the sacrifices made by brave Americans who have fallen in battle. We can insure that the generations which follow us will know that in the time of greatest peril, we were not found wanting.

"Let us insure that our children will have grateful reason to bless the memory of their fathers—as we have reason to bless the memory of all those brave men from Antioch who served their country in time of need and for those who have made the supreme sacrifice of life. Let us all unite as we dedicate this Antioch war memorial... a monument which will honor all those who served their nation so gallantly and who so fully epitomized the patriotism of their community."

What's Your Handicap?

Recently I went to Carthage, Illinois to join some local citizens in paying tribute to Phillip Hartzell on his 50th birthday.

"That's hardly worth writing a column about," you may be thinking.

But if you saw Phil Hartzell and knew his story, you could not help but be moved.

When he was five or six years old, Phil Hartzell fell victim to muscular dystrophy. Despite that, he went to grade school, high school and college.

Because of his physical handicap he could not secure employment, but he maintained an intense interest in better government. During my more than 14 years in state government, one of those who has regularly sent suggestions, criticisms and words of encouragement has been Phil Hartzell.

Phil Hartzell today does not have the use of his legs, can barely move his arms, and physically is about as badly handicapped as anyone can be. Yet Phil Hartzell has had infinitely more impact on government than has the average citizen.

I took my two children, ages 5 and 8, to Phil Hartzell's 50th birthday party because I wanted them to see and meet this living sermon.

There are other examples around the state, of course.

One is Roger Irving, executive assistant to State Auditor Michael Howlett. As a result of injuries sustained in the Air Force during World War II, he lost the use of his legs and hands.

His physical handicap is not as great as Phil Hartzell's, but it is bad enough that most of us, I'm afraid, would just withdraw from life.

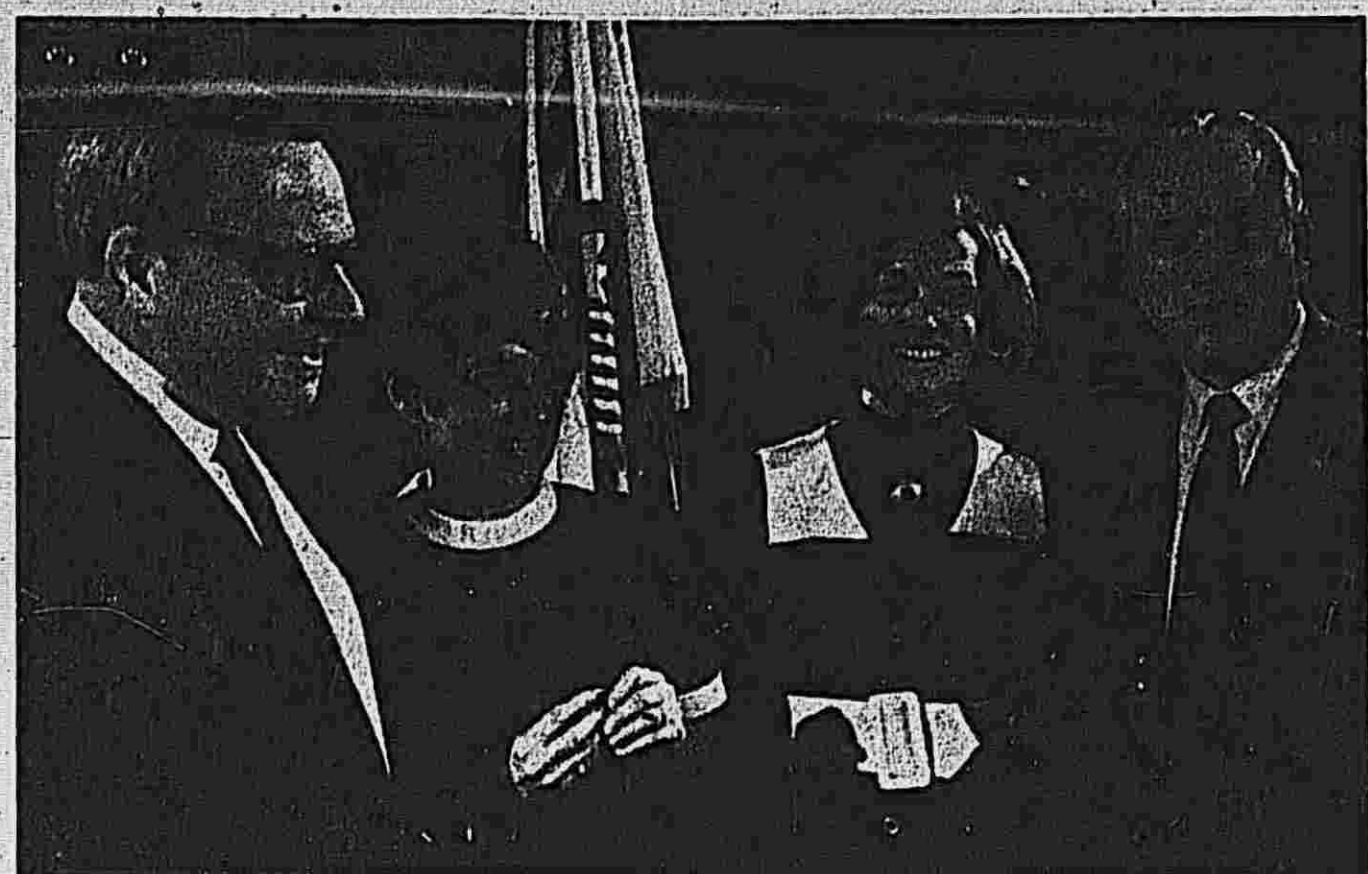

Yet few people in the nation contribute as much to state government as Roger Irving.

Willard Ice is an attorney and a key man in the Illinois Department of Revenue. If you have had a particularly complicated problem with the Department of Revenue, you probably have been referred to Willard Ice.

If you talked to him over the phone, you did not realize one thing: Willard Ice is blind.

Each of them—Phil Hartzell, Roger Irving and Willard Ice—has contributed to government in different, but important, ways.

And each of them should be an inspiration to citizens whose only handicap is indifference.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie announces the appointment of House Speaker Ralph Smith, far right, of Alton, to fill the post vacated by the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen. With the new senator and the governor are Mrs. Mary Smith, second from left and the Senator and Mrs. Smith's daughter, Sharon Lynn.

Pflueger Begins 2nd Year

Cadet Daniel W. Pflueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Pflueger of Rt. 1, Salem, Wis., is one of more than 900 cadets who have entered their sophomore year at the U. S. Air Force Academy, Colorado.

During the past summer, Cadet Pflueger and other members of the class of '72 completed an intensive six-week training program at the Academy and armed forces installations across the country.

The cadets were trained in survival techniques and base defense tactics in the rugged Rampart Range area near the Academy. They completed a combat course in infantry weapons at nearby Ft. Carson, Colo.

The final three weeks of training was conducted at several bases where the cadets got a first hand look at operational Air Force units and aircraft. This included on orientation flight in various types of aircraft.

As he began his second year at the Academy, Cadet Pflueger was named to the Commandant's List for his outstanding military performance. He wears a silver wreath insignia recognizing the honor accorded him by the Academy commandant of cadets. Cadet Pflueger has been selected as a flight guide with the rank of cadet staff sergeant. Chosen because of his demonstrated leadership ability, he will set the marching pace and direction for his 36-man flight.

The cadet, a member of the basketball team, will be commissioned a second lieutenant and awarded a B.S. degree upon graduation from the Academy.

He is a 1968 graduate of the Central High School where he was named valedictorian of his class and lettered in cross country, basketball and track.

Cattle Show Judges Are Named

A panel of three judges has been named for the 25th annual Chicago Feeder Cattle Show and Sale, October 23 and 24, at the Chicago Union Stock Yards, according to Larry Caine, Stockyards general manager.

Selected to judge the more than 4,000 expected entries at the nation's oldest show of this type are Robert Cousins, DeWitt, Iowa; Melvin Nefsted, Kings, Illinois; and, a university livestock specialist.

A fine selection of western and midwestern cattle is expected for this show which offers nearly $3,000 in prize money. The American Angus Association, American Hereford Association, American Shorthorn Association and Chicago Market Interests offer the prize money for this "showcase" feeder cattle show of America.

The feeder show will be October 23, with the sale to follow the next day, October 24. Chicago's annual show is recognized as the top event of this type and provides a unique opportunity for 4-H and FFA youth to obtain top quality feeder cattle. Each year the prize winning loads are sold in lots of five animals and these generally go to farm youth looking for 4-H and FFA project calves.

Earl Henderson and sons, Alliance, Nebraska, showed the grand champion 25 head at last year's feeder show. Henderson's Hereford steer calves won out over the reserve grand champion load, also Herefords, owned by Meyring Livestock Co., Colorado. The champion heifer calves were shown by Hillary Gollehon of Montana and these were also Herefords. Herefords also placed first in yearling steers, shown by O'Hair Ranch Company, Montana, and yearling heifers, shown by Camp Brothers, of Montana.

Premium lists and entry forms are now available from: Chicago Feeder Cattle Show and Sale, 118 Exchange Building, Chicago Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill., 60609, or from any commission firm operating on the Chicago market.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT

Says the Williamsburg, Va., zette: "Amid all the noise made on college campuses these days there is an awful lot of shouting about the necessity of more remedial courses for underprivileged students. What the academic world really needs is more remedial courses for administrators. A kind of boot camp for college presidents might fill the bill nicely. We heard a rumor the other day that before next fall college presidents will go on strike—for combat pay. . . . Campuses today need a new breed of man. The experts claim he must be a man who can plumb the depths of human relations, withstand the stress of mass criticism and manage the pressures of group confrontation without the loss of academic serenity. What they mean is that he should have a soft heart, a tough hide and know how to run a fort."

the inclusion of general education courses in each career program, the facilities are seen to be an important link in achieving that objective.

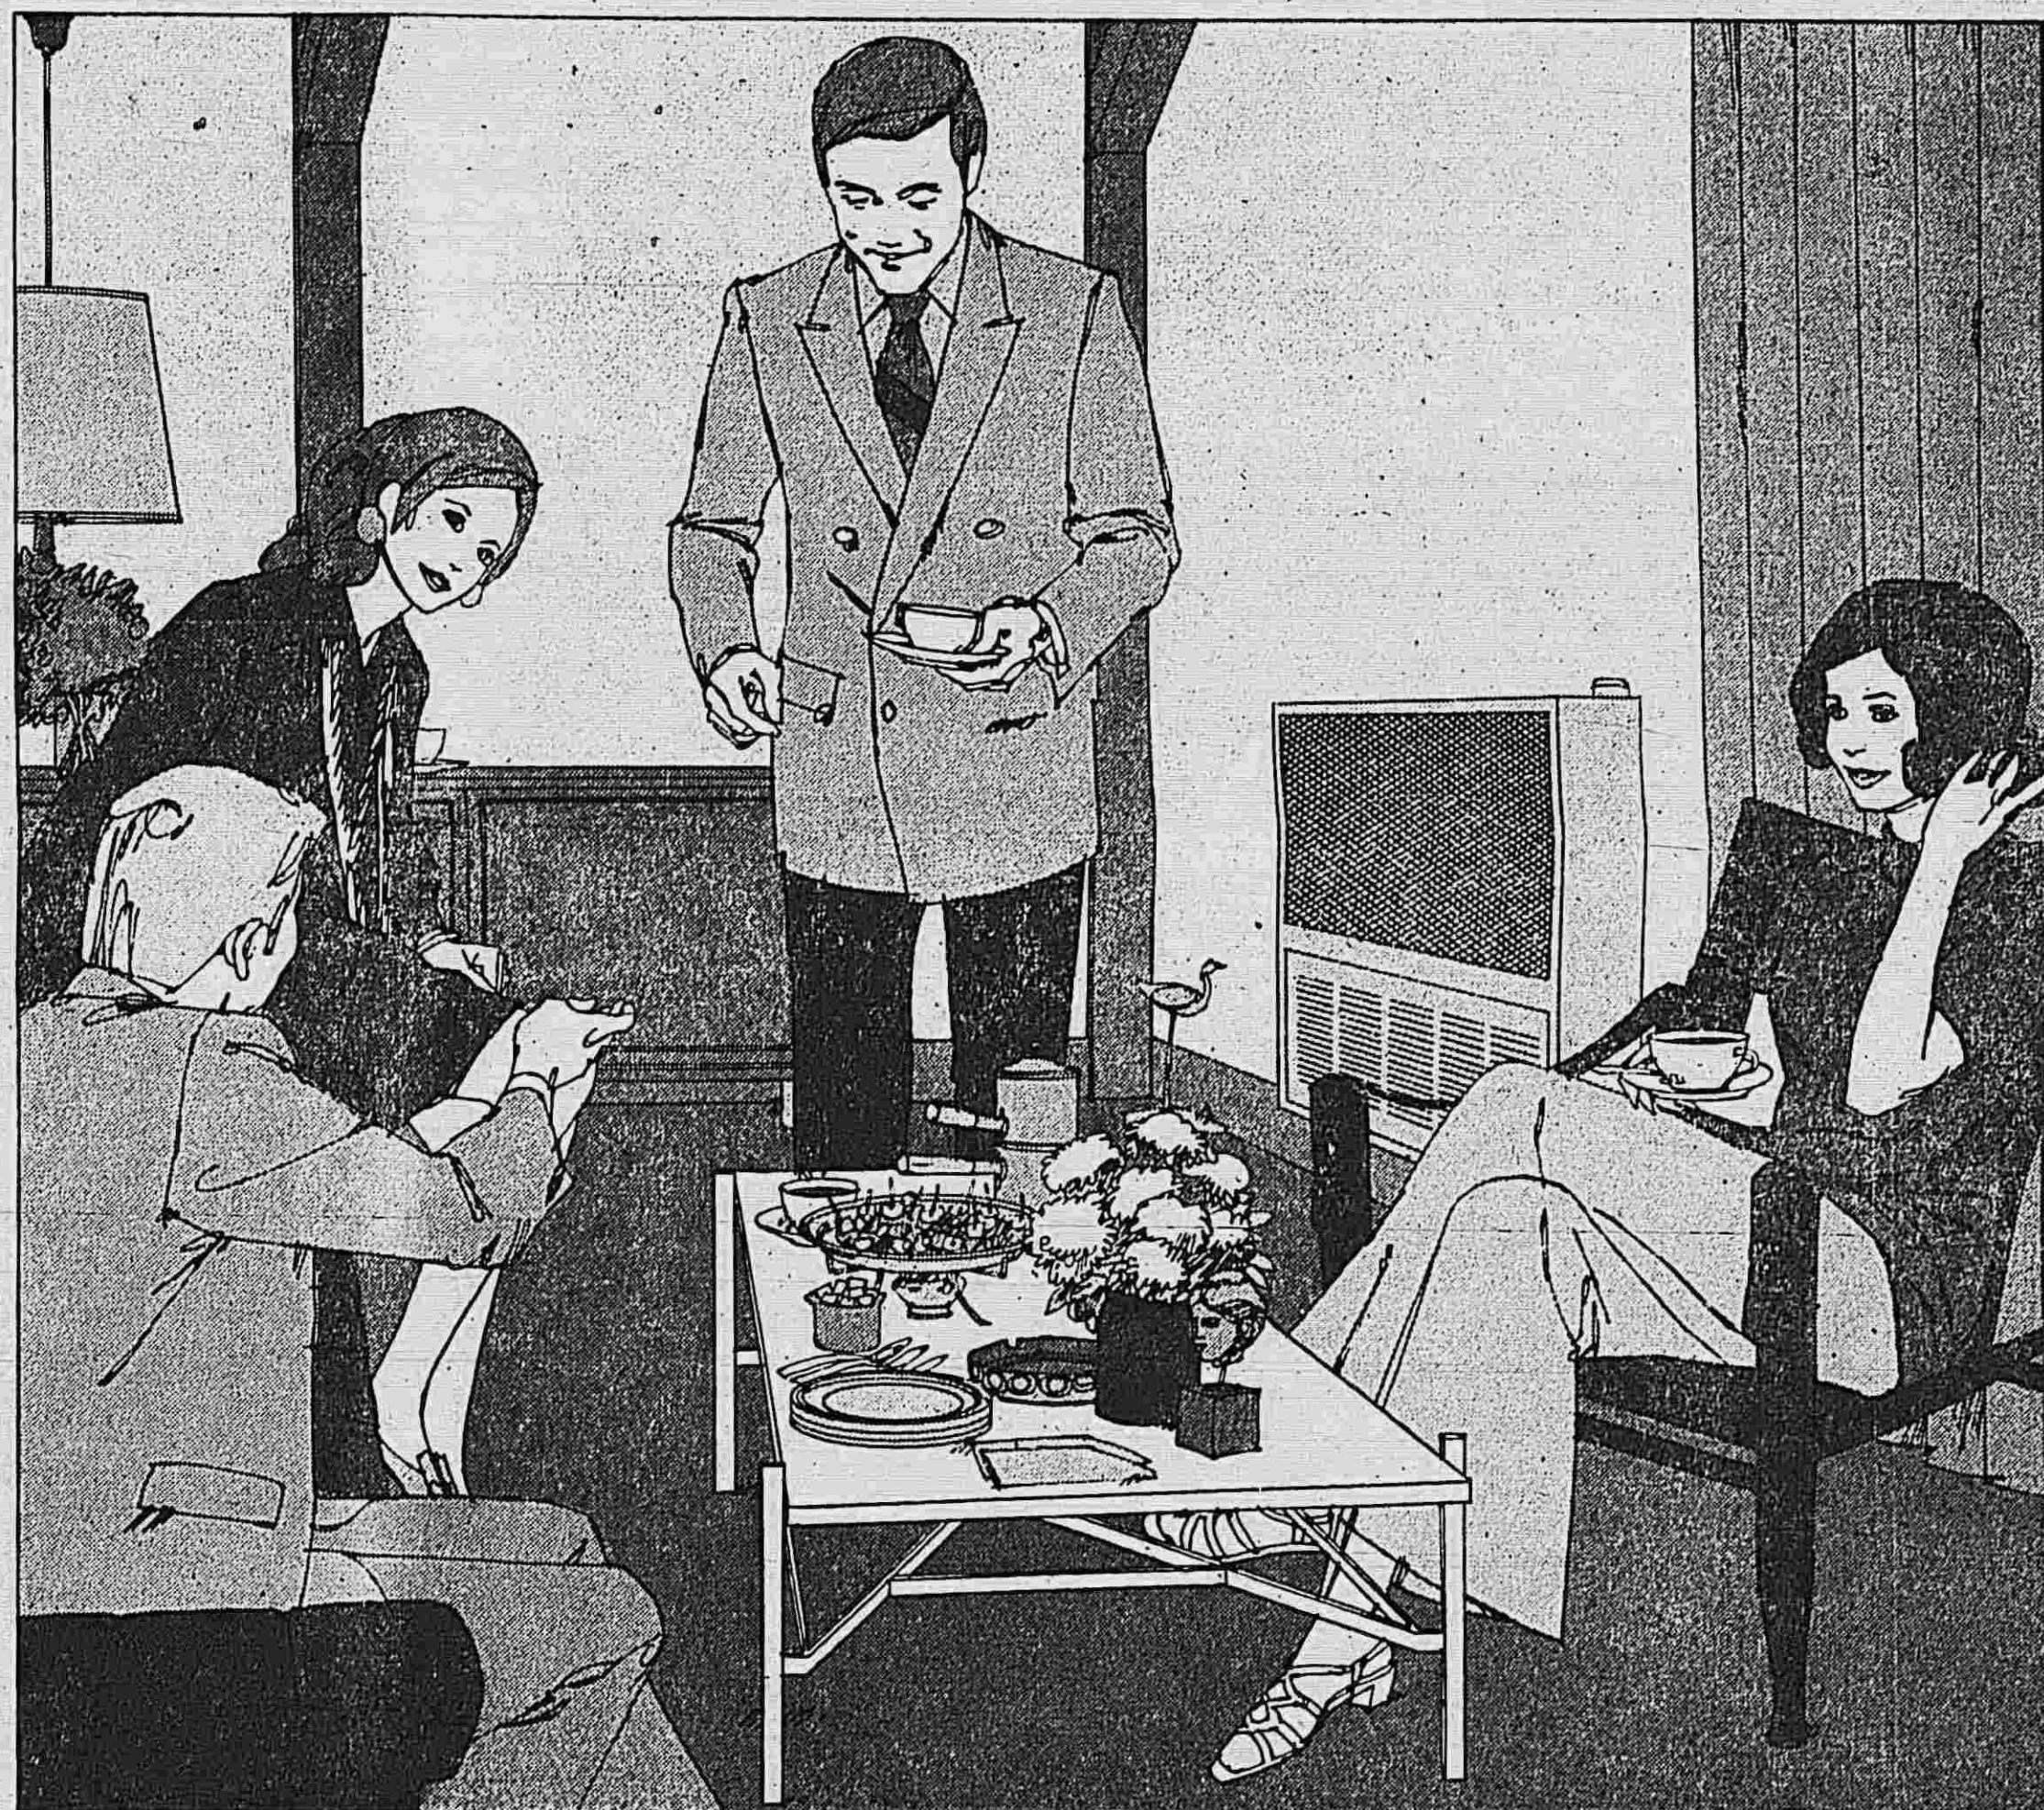

For a college having its beginning in temporary structures, the College of Lake County apparently has a good start. Well-equipped science, dental, electronic, drafting, and data processing laboratories are under development for use by career students. Considered in conjunction with the quality of the library and other student services being provided, the student should be able to avail himself of the variety of experiences essential for a well-rounded education.

RED AND YELLOW FOR 1970

Secretary of State Paul Powell displays a sample 1970 passenger car license plate, with red lettering and numerals on a yellow background. Pre-printed applications for 1970 registrations have been mailed to all passenger car owners. Mr. Powell advised any passenger car owner who did not receive a pre-printed application or whose application listed a car he traded in the last year to secure a blank application from a currency exchange, auto dealer, bank or similar outlet, and use it to apply for 1970 registration. Owners wishing to retain their present numbers for next year must, by law, have their application in his office no later than September 30, Mr. Powell pointed out.

Long Range Highway Plans Objective

Development of a long range highway program, to be implemented upon completion of the Interstate System, will be an area of major concern to the American Automobile Association in the near future, Matthew C. Sleski, vice president of the Chicago Motor Club-AAA for engineering and traffic safety and chairman of the AAA Highway Committee reported today.

In a statement filed with the 67th Annual Meeting of the 12-million-member motorist organization, the highway group pointed out that the Highway Trust Fund, which supports the Federal-aid highway program, is scheduled to expire in 1972. "This necessitates a complete review of its operation to include the possibility of its extension and a change in user charges," the Committee said. A cost allocation study now in progress will include increased costs and mileage traveled. This study may result in an adjustment of user charges. A Long Range Subcommittee of the Highway Committee has been assigned the task of developing a future highway program that will be in the best interests of motorists.

Boys Town Choir To Perform

If you're old enough to remember the Academy Award winning film, "Boys Town", starring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, you may not be surprised to learn that Fr. Flanagan's Boys Town is now 50 years old.

The world-famed Irish padre set up housekeeping in a ramshackle building in Omaha on December 10, 1917, with five homeless boys, and $90 he borrowed from a friend. The head-shaking bystanders, who knew his altruistic project would fail, should have witnessed the celebration of its 50th anniversary.

Though they have toured from coast to coast annually since 1949, the Boys Town Choir stayed home in 1967, to take part in the many projects marking the 50th jubilee of Boys Town and the 100th birthday of the State of Nebraska.

The climax of Boys Town's 50th year came on December 10, when hundreds of graduates of the City of Little Men returned to the Home, representing more than 10,000 boys—homeless, neglected and underprivileged—whom the Home has sheltered. There were awards and reminiscences and, finally, a pageant written by choirmaster Fr. Schmitt, called "Not Every Boy." The show depicted the growth of Boys Town, now a model for similar cities in a dozen countries.

The 900 citizens of Boys Town today never knew the founder of Boys Town, who died in 1949 on a State Department mission of mercy in postwar Berlin, but Monsignor Nicholas Wegner, present director of Boys Town, carried on the work of his great friend.

Ready for the next 50 years, the singing ambassadors of Boys Town will give a concert on Monday, Sept. 29, at the Waukegan High West Campus Auditorium, under the auspices of Waukegan Fire Fighters Local 473.

Sept. 30 Is Deadline For Plates

If you want to retain your present Illinois license plate number or request a special number for 1970 you must make application before the Sept. 30 deadline.

This counsel comes from the Chicago Motor Club-AAA license bureau which adds that the applications must be in Secretary of State Paul Powell's office—not just postmarked—no later than the deadline date.

New renewal forms, pre-printed and partially completed were mailed to all Illinois registrants about six weeks ago. However, any Illinois car owner may request a special license plate number—if his application is on a 1970 form, according to the motor club.

In 1970 there will be only two license fees for passenger cars—$18 for vehicles having less than 35 horsepower and $30 for cars having more than 35 horsepower. Renewal notice forms sent to registrants have the required registration fee pre-printed on the face of the form.

Illinois 1970 auto license plates will have a color combination of red letters and numerals on a yellow background.

The change reduces the total acreage in the proposed preserve by about three acres.

Also in conjunction with the green belt designation, two resolutions were approved authorizing the director to seek funds from both the department of Housing and Urban Development and the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. The District will ask for a federal matching grant of $805,000, or about half the estimated cost of the 169 acres involved.

In other action the commission voted to purchase five small lots and an existing structure located in Spring Bluff Preserve at a cost of $8,000.

Following the business session commissioners toured Lakewood and Wright preserves. While at Lakewood, District President Ernest W. Minter welcomed 35 interns from the Region 4 office of HUD in Chicago.

The young men, all beginning their training in various divisions of the department, were out inspecting HUD financed projects in the greater metropolitan area.

Here's one of 40 reasons why the electric dryer is a better buy.

Electric dryers are priced up to $40 less than comparable gas models. And, a $40 savings can represent about three years of drying expense free, for an average family of four.

But economy is only part of the electric dryer story.

Electric dryers dry your clothes the same way as the sun... with radiant heat. Your wash will always be sunshine-fresh and wrinkle-free, day or night, in any season. Saving $40 and a lot of trips to the clothesline with a wet basket of clothes are good reasons to put a little more sunshine in your life—the new, radiant-heat electric dryer.

File No. 69 P-548
Notice is hereby given pursuant

BASIS OF HUMAN RIGHTS
Public concern for constructive change within a solid and respected framework of law and order should never be construed as a desire to turn the clock back or ride roughshod over so-called human rights—far from it. The Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Warren E. Burger, stated the case succinctly when he said, "Governments exist chiefly to foster the right and interests of its citizens—to protect their homes and property, their persons, and their lives. If a government fails in this basic duty it is not redeemed by providing even the most perfect system for the protection of the rights of defendants in the criminal courts. . . . We know that a nation or a community which has no rules and no laws is not a society but an anarchy. . . ."

Larson, 388 Lake St., Antioch, Lake County, Illinois, and that the first Monday in the month of November, 1969, is the claim date for the estate.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

IN MEMORY OF MARILYN HEATH
"Traveling With God"
My plans were made—I thought my path all bright and clear My heart with song o'erflowed—the world seemed full of cheer. My Lord I wished to serve—to take Him for my guide. To keep so close that I could feel Him by my side And so I traveled on.

But suddenly in skies so clear and full of light The clouds fell thick and fast—The days seemed changed to night. Instead of paths so clear and full of things so sweet Rough things and thorns and stones seemed all about my feet I scarce could travel on.

I bowed my head and wondered why this change should come And murmured, "Lord is this because of aught I've done? Has not the past been full enough of pain and care? Why should my path again be changed from dark to fair? But still I traveled on.

I listened—Quiet and still there came a voice—"This path is Mine, not thine—I made the choice: "Dear Child, this service will be best for thee and Me If thou wilt simply trust and leave the end to Me." And so we traveled on.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 25, 1969

THE ANTIOCH NEWS-8

The Sequoia defense worked on this play as the Antioch warriors swarm all over a Lake Forest ball carrier.

Sequoia Swamped By Scouts - 22 - 0

Despite another fine defensive game by Antioch, they fell to Lake Forest and Pete Bussone.

Bussone, who gained only 28 yards from scrimmage scored two of his team's T.D.'s on a 70 yard pass play and a disputed punt return. The other score for Lake Forest came on a 96 yard run by senior Tim Holligan.

The Sequoia received the opening kickoff and punted to Lake Forest after failing to make a first down. Lake Forest was stopped and punted back to Antioch who went down to the Lake Forest 28 before giving up the ball on downs. In 3 plays L. Forest lost 3 yards and punted. Antioch partially blocked the kick and took control on the Scouts' 34 yard line. They went to the Lake Forest 11 before being halted. Lake Forest took over on their own 15 yard line. They ran the ball to their own 27 to end the first quarter.

On the first play of the second quarter Bussone hauled in a pass and outraced Antioch's defense to score. Bussone also scored the extra point and with 11:49 left in the first half, Lake Forest led 8-0.

After receiving the kick off Antioch could not move the ball and punted to Lake Forest. The Scouts put the ball in play on their own 25 yard line and could not move. On their punt attempt the snap from center went over the kicker's head and he was tackled on the Scouts' 9 yard line. Eric Claeson carried to the 5 yard line and Lou Nielsen carried to the 1 where he fumbled and the Scouts recovered. On the next play Halligan went 96 yards for a T.D. The try for extra point was no good and with 7:19 left in the first half the score was Lake Forest 14, Antioch 0.

After the kickoff Antioch could not get past their own 38 and punted. Bussone took a handoff from a teammate and went 70 yards for the Scouts' final T.D. The play was protested by Antioch's coaches for they felt that the ball was downed before Bussone got the handoff.

From this point on neither team threatened to score although Antioch did move the ball well. Offensive coach Ted DeRousse stated, "We made too many blocking errors and our backs ran the wrong holes. Our passing game must improve if we are to stay as contender for the championship."

Statistics for the game—Antioch picked up 10 punt downs to Lake Forest's 5. The Sequoia ran 43 plays to Lake Forest's 39. Antioch completed 1 of 13 passes and Lake Forest completed 2 of 8.

The Sequoia are busily preparing for Round Lake, their next opponent at Round Lake this Saturday.

Burgan, Schill Roll On

Lake Geneva, Wis. — Season champions at the Lake Geneva Racesway, Dennis Burgan in late model stock cars and Al Schill in Modified stock cars, continue to roll up victories even in post-season events. Burgan again scored a clean sweep of late model stock car events as he set the fastest time of 17.55 seconds, won the trophy dash, his heat and the feature race.

In the modifieds, it was Tom Anderson of Antioch setting a new track record in time trials with a run of 16.84 seconds. The previous record was two years old at 16.95 seconds and was set by former champion at Lake Geneva, Roger Otto. In the feature race however, the best Anderson could do was to pressure Schill but couldn't get by for the win. Right behind him was Roger Otto and then it was Eddie Loomis and Paul Cameron. These three made their way from the back of the pack in some fine and thrilling racing for the fans on an otherwise cool night.

Winning heats in the modifieds were Schill, Ron Biddick, John Arnold and Cameron.

Following Burgan in the feature was Bruce Johnson, Harv Dunbar, Ray Bush and Robert Leibnow. In this race too, Burgan came from the back to the lead in short order. Heats were won by Floyd Manniniem and Lee Tibbets.

Spectator stocks saw winners catch the flag in the most events as John Fisher won the feature and A. J. Haak, Carl Tiedel, and Don Pulera won heats. The semi feature was won by Gil Shilts ahead of Richard Drews.

Musgrave Wins Feature

Elmer Musgrave of Mundelein came from the back of the pack Saturday night at the Waukegan Speedway to win the 30 lap late model super stock car feature race. Musgrave took the lead in the 17th lap from Al Gutche of Pleasant Prairie who finished third. Bob Roper of Chicago took second.

Jim Couch of Grayslake had a big night Saturday as he drove both in the late models and the hobby division winning three races including the wild hobby feature.

Next week the Waukegan Speedway will conclude the competition portion of their 1969 season with a 50 lap season championship race for the late models and a 25 finals for the hobby stocks. Chuck Parker of Lombard took the feature lead at the green flag, but Gutche took over in the second lap with Verne Browne of Wauconda moving into second. Roper charged through the field in the opening laps to run third at the end of two laps and second by the fourth lap.

Meanwhile the masterful Musgrave worked his way towards the front passing Roper for second in the 10th lap and setting out after Gutche who held a comfortable lead. At that point Ray Young of Dolton was running fourth and Jim Cossman of Waukegan held fifth.

The 13th lap was an unlucky one for Young as he spun in the third turn and stalled for a lap. Young came back to finish ninth, his worst showing of the year.

Musgrave caught Gutche and finally slipped into first on the 17th lap. On the 21st lap Roper took second, but he could never catch Musgrave. Gutche held third, although Cossman tried to move up in the final lap. Cossman spun completely around, but still managed to take fourth money in front of Jacques Terrault of Lake Villa.

Cossman and Musgrave tied for fast time at 14.80 as a good sized field of cars were on hand for the night's races. Young won the dash in a close race over Musgrave. Heats were won by Couch, Parker, Young and Browne, and Roger Eder of Chicago was the winner of the semi-feature.

The hobby stocks had so many cars on hand that three heat races were required. Chuck Beckmack of Island Lake won the first and Dale Welp of Milwaukee swept the second win. Couch carried the third checker after tangling with Cora Morton of Zion.

Nimrods To Hold Shoot

Antioch's 885 Civic Club will play host to the 1969 crop of nimrods with a Hunter's Warm-Up Shoot on Sunday, September 28th.

Hopeful hunters will have an opportunity to sharpen their shooting in preparation for the upcoming hunting season and, at the same time, bring home eatable game, all cleaned and dressed, and ready to pop into the oven. On the line will be rock Cornish hens, turkeys, ducks and chickens, to be won by all classes of gunners.

Heading the list of "value shoots" is the 3 for $1.00 cornish hen shoot, in three events which will enable good shooters, poor shooters, and lucky stiffs to win an equal share of the prizes.

In one event, the Hi-Lo White Bird shoot, the high scoring gun wins a hen, the lowest scoring shooter also wins a hen, as does the lucky one who bags the white target.

Another event, the Hi-2 White Bird Shoot enables two lucky gunners to win birds by breaking the white targets while the high scoring sharpshooter latches onto the third hen.

For the Experts, the Winner

Take-All contest, as its name implies, will give the three hens to the high scoring gun.

Another event, the Turkey and a Chicken shoot will net the high gun a young tom turkey and the lowest scoring contestant will get a chicken.

Chickens will go on the block in Single, Double, Triple, and Quintuple White Bird shoots. Ducks will be shot for in high scoring events.

All of the contests have been designed to enable average and low average shooters to win a larger share of the booty against the hot shots. Non shooters too will have an opportunity to win some goodies in stationary target shoots.

Ladies of the 885 Club will serve a barbecued chicken dinner all day long for the hungry contestants and spectators for $1.50.

An all day demonstration of archery will be put on by the I.C.A., an Antioch archery club.

Shooting will start at 10 a.m. on the grounds of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club, three miles west of Antioch on Rte. 173, and will continue until all the prizes are shot out, unless darkness comes on before this occurs.

Proceeds from this event will be used by the 885 Club for their designated local civic projects. William E. Brook, Antioch civic leader, is chairman of the shoot committee.
